

PRESTIGIOUS AWARD TO LE FRACCE WINES:

PINOT NERO 2005 IS SILVER TASTEVIN

On February 8th the Italian Sommelier Association awarded the Silver Tastevin to the Pinot Nero 2005 LE FRACCE as the second best wine in Lombardy.

This new and important prize is another demonstration of the Bussolera Branca Foundation's will to maintain his wine production to excellent levels and to use his production to encourage the development of the territory and his productions.

Following the success of Garboso (pointed as the best purchase on the Espresso Guide for the perfect relation between quality and price) and Pinot Nero itself (last November for Quattro Rose Camune in the Vinipius guide) put LE FRACCE wines first and strengthen his status of

Pride of Lombardy

“Our contribution to the valorization of Oltrepo and Casteggio in particular it's now more important than ever because a project of a new DOC in Casteggio is going to start. Our historical wine Bohemi has been a beacon in this process and we are very proud of it” says Fabio P. Cei, President of the Bussolera Branca Foundation, no profit organism.

Congratulations to Roberto Gerbino, wine stylist and to all the people that provide their engagement along these years.
